Islam, Arabs, and Intelligent World of the Jinn (Contemporary Issues in the Middle East) Amira El-Zein

According to the Qur'an, God created two parallel species, man and the jinn, the former from clay and the later from fire. Beliefs regarding the jinn are deeply integrated into Muslim culture and religion, a constant presence in legends, myths, poetry, and literature. In Islam, Arabs, and the Intelligent World of the Jinn, Amira El-Zein explores the integral role this mythological figure plays, revealing that the concept of jinn is fundamental to understanding Muslim culture and tradition. Examining closely a wide range of sources, from the fields of law, theology, and folklore, El-Zein clearly places the status of jinn in the metaphysical and cosmological economy of Islam. She probes the complex relationships between jinn and humans, as well as jinn and animals, providing critical insight into the function of jinn in the process of poetic and cultural creation. The author's access to Arabic sources and her ability to lucidly contextualize them make this a compelling and thorough account, enriching our knowledge of Islamic religion and tradition.
