The whole book contains (1001) One thousand and one recipes, with approximately 1300 high quality and colored photos, it also includes more than 300 new recipes. The whole book divided in 14 chapters, This chapter "Middle East Spices Red Meat Part2" is the third chapter on kindle, it contains 63 recipes. To make it easier for readers to do all recipes, I have added some illustrational images for the advanced level recipes.

I have pursued a special approach in writing this book, an approach of simplicity, and clarity in explanation. It is guaranteed to get matching results as what you see in the pictures, if precise attention is being paid to the application of the recipes, and directions, as well as time, ingredients, and taking in consideration all the notes that accompany to these recipes. I am keen to ensure that all the information in this book are accurate, so that there is no possibility of failure in the application of recipes. This book have been audited more than five times, as respect and commitment from me to my readers. Stages of the audit included ingredients and its compatibility with the directions, images and clarity of the idea through explanation. I would like to mention an important information that, I, and anyone who is interested in the art of cooking should consider. Always follow the directions as they are mentioned.

The idea of writing (1001) One thousand and one recipes came to fill the shortage in the Arabic book field in the culinary arts, I hope this book will take its deserved place. In my opinion, and without hyperbole, this book is the largest encyclopedia and the most important in cooking, as it has the techniques and ideas for new and innovative recipes. It is the number one book from my point of view that needs to be in every kitchen.
